

LLMC Digital's Page Type Search

LLMC Digital offers researchers enhanced search functionality by identifying important pages to enhance user navigation. Below is the list of Page Types searchable on LLMC Digital. NOTE: not all Page Types will apply to all content.

- Agency Table - identified as "Agency Table" within the book.
- Annex – identified as "Annex" within the book. Page contains appended or additional information for the document.
- Appendix - identified as "Appendix" within the book. Page contains additional information for the book.
- Bibliography - identified as "Bibliography" within the book and labeled as such.
- Chapter - identified as "Chapter" within the book and labeled as such. The main division of a book.
- Charts/Diagrams/Graphs – page contains a chart, diagram or graph.
- Citation Page – includes a list of sources associated with this volume.
- Digest - identified as "Digest" within the book. Page contains a compilation of legal rules, statutes, or decisions.
- Errata - identified as "Errata" within the book. Page indicates printer error(s) within the publication.
- Foreword - identified as "Foreword" within the book. Page contains a short introduction to the book.
- Glossary - identified as "Glossary" within the book. A list of terms or words found within the book which includes the definition and the location within the text.
- History - identified as "History" within the book. Legislative history is a legal term used to describe any materials created during the process of making a legislative bill.
- Illustration/Pictures – page contains an illustration or picture.
- Index - identified as "Index" within the book. This page will list reference information which can be found in the book.
- Manuscript – page contains handwritten material.
- Maps - page contains a map.
- Notes - identified as "Note" within the book. Statements that were written for the reader to clarify the text material.
- Order - identified as "Order" within the book. Instructions issued by the judge or the court of law.
- Preface - identified as "Preface" within the book. This page contains introductory or preliminary information.
- Regulations - identified as "Regulations". An official rule, law, or order stating what may or may not be done or how something must be done.
- Rules - identified as "Rules". This page contains information regarding the following items: an order or a direction made in court, regulating court practices or action of parties, and the house rules and the joint rules in the Senate.
- Supplement - identified as "Supplement". This page contains supplementary information for the title or book.
- Table - page contains a table (a set of facts or figures systematically displayed).
- Table of Contents - identified as "Table of Contents" within the book.